TERRIBLE ENCOUNTER

At a Farmers Alliance Meeting.

BETWEEN THE SPECTATORS.

Dillon Pursued and attacked, Replies With Stones.

Terrible Fire at Sea, 9 Drowned and a Number Missing.

Dillon Attacked.

By Cable and Associated Press.
CONX, Oct. 29.—John Dillon was pursued and attacked last night while driving to attend the anti-Parnellite meetings. He replied with stones, and during the fracas received a severe blow on the knee from a stick. The injury was not of a serious nature, but on account of the swelling Dillon must keep quiet. Consequently the injured parliamentarian ceased his work canvassing in behalf of the nominee of the McCarthy party.

The fighting which took place between the McCarthyites and Parnellites last night in the streets of this city, is more serious than it first appeared. There was a series of skirmishes between the contending parties, the most serious being the one in which Dillon was disabled. Crowds of McCarthyites were upon that occasion accompanying Dillon and O'Brien, who were on their way to attend the McCarthyites meeting. The McCarthyites came into collision with the procession of the Parnellites; neither crowd would give way to the other, and so a general melee followed, several thousand combatants taking part. Black horns, bricks and stones were used by both parties. Finally the McCarthyites succeeded in wrenching the torches from the hands of the Parnellites. The victorious McCarthyites then continued their march. Upon arriving at the market place where the meeting was held, O'Brien addressed about 5,000 McCarthyites.

In the meanwhile the routed Parnellites, with reinforcements, made another onslaught upon the McCarthyites; they charged into the square slashing right and left with their blackthorns and splitting many heads. The McCarthyites, though they fought desperately, were slowly driven back. Then for a time the Parnellites held the market place. The McCarthyites soon found strong reinforcements, and thus strengthened, they again mustered in a compact body and made a dash at the Parnellites; after a most desperate battle, the Parnellite force was routed. Many on both sides were injured, in addition to those already reported as having been taken to the hospital to have their wounds attended to. Similar scenes, though on a somewhat more modest scale, occurred at Bandon, twenty miles from here. During the fight a number of the contestants on both sides were severely cut and bruised.

Steamer Burned.

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—Private dispatches just received here say: The steamer Oliver Byrne was burned at Milwaukee Bend, 12 miles from Pittsburgh, this morning. Twelve lives are reported lost.

The fire was discovered in the cotton in the hold of the Oliver Byrne, and the flames spread so rapidly that many of the crew and passengers had very narrow escapes. The list of those burned to death or drowned, now runs up to 13, as near as can be ascertained, they are as follows: The daughter of Mrs. Adams of Omaha, Mrs. Fraser's nurse, five cabin boys and two colored chambermaids; a number of rowaboats are also missing.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 29.—A dispatch received here at noon confirms the report of the burning of the steamer Oliver Byrne near Milwaukee Bend early this morning. Eight lives are reported lost. The boat had on board 800 bales of cotton, which were totally destroyed.

A Terrible Encounter.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A little Rock (Ark.) special says news was received there of a terrible encounter at the Farmers Alliance meeting at Buckport last night. In a quarrel between the spectators rifles, shotguns and pistols were used with deadly effect. Bert Manning, J. H. Town and three others whose names are not known were killed, and several were slightly wounded. Politics was the sole cause of the trouble.

News From Samoa.

By Cable and Associated Press.
APIA (Samoa), Oct. 29.—Baron von Pilsch, President of the Municipal Council and advisor to King Malietoa, has resigned. The reason he assigns is that certain white residents of Samoa have been writing letters to the King about the German currency and other matters, and that the King wrote direct to them in reply. Pilsch claimed that no one should either write or speak to King Malietoa before first securing the President's permission, thereby actually assuming the position of dictator of the islands. Before he resigned a memorial to the three powers had already been prepared by the consuls of the three treaty powers and forwarded. The memorial petitions the three governments for the recall of Baron Pilsch, on account of "inexperience and reckless behavior in office." The memorial is also signed by Robert Louis Stevenson and by nearly all the residents of Apia, with the exception of some Germans. The Baron intimated to the consuls that he would hand over the funds here and at Sidney to them, but afterwards wrote saying that in looking over the treaty he could not see that he had the power to do so, although he had drawn $6,000 from them in the form of duties collected by them before the arrival of the President.

Two days before he resigned, Baron von Pilsch stated he intended to hand over the archives of the municipality and the funds to Mr. Weber, manager of a German trading firm, who had been appointed President pro tem. The consuls, however, contended that he was exceeding his powers, and that while he remained in the country he could not regulate his powers to others, as the treaty does not make provision for a case of this kind. He afterward requested permission to withdraw his resignation, but the King told him it was out of his power and must go to the powers. It is contended that he is incapable of filling the position, and it is further contended that the position should not be filled at all, and that the taxpayers should be allowed to elect a Mayor and allow him a small salary for expenses.

The papers are full of the discussion as to the expenses of the government, and it was shown in one communication that while the total revenue collected was but twenty thousand dollars, the expenditures to October 1st amounted to over $22,000 for salaries for the officials under the Berlin treaty, with many items for which no provision has been made. Matafa has at last been proclaimed a rebel, and all the chiefs who are supporting him have had their lands confiscated, and everybody is forbidden to assist them in any way. The American Consul has been instructed by his government to inform Matafa that the government was annoyed by the latter's attitude, and that he should at once break up the party at Malie. There are only about 300 in the party, but it is stated that fully half the population are against the Malietoa government, chiefly because of its inaction, and the attitude of the natives in the Samoan group has changed towards the whites in the last few months, much of the former friendliness having died out. This, some prominent chiefs ascribe to the impression which has got abroad, that the whites were responsible for all the trouble in Samoa, and they express the opinion that if another war broke out, the whites in some of the outlying stations would not be as safe as formerly. The chief justice is still away on his vacation, and a large number of cases are awaiting his return, for trial. The Land Commissioners having commenced the hearing of claims. There are 3,700 claims now on hand. The Commissioners are passing upon one claim of McArthur & Co., who have had possession of a piece of land for six years, and have erected buildings on it. They claimed they had a quit claim some years ago from Chief Semauatua, who now disputes the claim, on the ground that he did not know what he was signing. If the native chiefs pursue this line of action, titles acquired from other natives will cause much more trouble before they are finally adjusted. The United States government has perfected its title to important and commanding points at Pago-Pago and the coaling station is regarded as one of the strongest positions in the South Pacific. The matter was adjusted before Consul-General Sewell left here for the United States.

Field Disturbed.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—General Field of this city is much disturbed because a speech made in Richmond at a meeting of the Society of the Army of Northern Virginia, with reference to the Confederate flag at the World's Fair, was attributed to him. The General was not present at the meeting, and says he is not in sympathy with the sentiments of the speech.

Secret Proceedings.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Directors Union of the Theological Seminary met again this morning to confer with the committee from the General Assembly regarding the disapproval of Professor Briggs' appointment to a chair in the Seminary. At 12:30 o'clock the conference took a recess for an hour. Although all present refused to divulge the proceedings, it is understood that the directors of the Seminary are as faithful as ever to Briggs.

Royalty Travelling.

By Cable and Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 29.—The Czar, Czarina and other members of the Imperial family who had been visiting recently at Fredensborg, started to-day on board the Imperial yacht for Denmark, whence the Imperial party will proceed by train to Livadia, traveling by way of Warsaw. The Czar and his party were accompanied to Dantzig by the King and Queen of Denmark, and by the Princess of Wales.

Security of Water.

By Associated Press.
MONTGOMERY (Ala.), Oct. 29.—The present spell of dry weather is one of the longest ever experienced in this section. The streams are drying up, and the railroads find it very troublesome to secure water necessary to run the trains. The employees along the lines are supplied with water from this city, every passenger train carrying barrels full.

Escaped Convict Captured.

By Associated Press.
TEXARKANA (Ark.), Oct. 29.—Napoleon McDaniels, who over a year ago assisted in ditching and robbing the Cotton Belt passenger train at South Switch, and afterwards escaped from the penitentiary by murdering his jailer, has been captured here.

The Directors of the Bank of England to-day advanced the rate of discount from three to four per cent.

ARSENIC AND AMMONIA.

Remarkable Contrast in the Effect of Two Poisons on the Complexion.

The slow absorption of many poisons changes in some more or less modified form the complexion, but arsenic and ammonia show their effect about as quickly as any. The popular belief that arsenic clears the complexion has led many silly women to kill themselves with it in small, continued doses.

It produces a waxy, ivory-like appearance of the skin during a certain stage of the poisoning, but its terrible after effects have become too well known to make it of common use as a cosmetic.

The effects of ammonia upon the complexion are directly the opposite of that of arsenic. The first symptom of ammonia poisoning which appears among those who work in ammonia factories is a discoloration of the skin of the nose and forehead. This gradually extends over the face until the complexion has a stained, blotchy and unseemly appearance. With people who take ammonia into their systems in smaller doses, as with their water or food, these striking symptoms do not appear so soon. The only effect of the poison that is visible for a time is a general unwholesomeness and sallowness of the complexion.

Many people are slowly absorbing ammonia poison without knowing it. The use of ammonia in the manufacture has greatly increased of late, and it is unquestionably used as an adulterant in certain food preparations. Official analysis have plainly shown its use even in such cheap articles of everyday consumption as baking powders. The continued absorption of ammonia in even minute quantities as an adulterant in food is injurious, not merely from its effect upon the complexion, but because it destroys the coating of the stomach and causes dyspepsia and kindred evils.

Professor Long of Chicago is authority for the statement that, if to fifty million parts of water there is one part of ammonia, the water is dangerous.

Beef Fat Route.

Gerlach & Fisk are on the road from the north with 500 fat steers to be fed on the Meadows. Dr. W. H. Patterson has 557 on the road to Reno. Sessions & Cameron are also on the road with 264 head. Ayers & Poor are coming with over 300 head and will ship them from Amodeo in a day or two. They are sold to Grayson, Owen & Co. Mr. Murdoch says that about half the beef raised in and around Fort Bidwell have been bought up. He says that in this end of the valley there are about 500 head yet for sale.

ADMISSION DAY.

Exercises at the High School. To-morrow afternoon at the High School there will be interesting exercises commemorative of Nevada history. Saturday being the anniversary of Nevada's admission to the Union, such exercises are especially commendable. Our Nevada youth need to know more of Nevada, its present condition, and future possibilities. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Quick Work.

C. Bush was brought up before Judge Cheney this morning on the charge of forgery, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four years in the State Prison. Sheriff Coughlin will take him to Carson to-morrow.

CHILIAN SITUATION.

NO FAST MAIL FOR CANADA.

Rumors of a Battle Between Refugees and Troops.

Chilian Situation.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—There is little or no excitement in official circles here this morning over the Santiago press cablegram announcing the receipt by Minister Egan of an unsatisfactory response from the Junta to the representations of the United States, and saying that the Baltimore crew is practically boycotted at Valparaiso. The naval officials discredit the latter statement, and believe its foundation lies in the prudent course adopted by Commodore Schley, respecting the granting of liberty to its sailors during the present condition and excitement. No word has been received at the Navy Department from the Commodore reporting any new phase in the situation. A cipher cablegram from Minister Egan was received this morning at the State department, but its contents were not made known.

(New York, Oct. 29.—It is generally acknowledged by the merchants interested in the Chilean trade, that the present crisis is an exceedingly grave one. The Evening Sun says but little business was transacted by the shipping men, and by those interested in the Chilean situation this morning. The whole topic of conversation and speculation is, what this country would do in the event of war with Chile. Most are inclined to scoff at the idea of her going to war with the United States, but the feeling prevails widely that the Chileans are ready to fight. Several prominent down town business firms, who have commercial relations with Chile, were called upon this morning with a view of ascertaining the feeling in respect to the possible outbreak of hostilities between the United States and Chile. "We have received no advices whatever from our correspondent in Valparaiso, in regard to this affair," said Chas. B. Flint, and so long as it is a matter of diplomatic negotiations, I do not think any serious consequences need be apprehended. At the office of Grace & Co. it was said, the trouble no doubt will be settled in a few days.

A Great Loop.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A St. Paul special says the secret of the organization of the Spokane Southern Railway of the State of Washington, is out. It was given out that the purpose of the line is to make a great loop for the great North Pacific line. It will run from Portland, Oregon, over the Cascades, along the north bank of the Columbia river, until it reaches the mouth of the Snake river, and continues along the north bank of the Snake river to Almonta, and thence north to Spokane. The articles of incorporation provide for building the road from Spokane to Snake River, which will make a loop for the Great Northern from Spokane via Seattle, Portland and Almonta back to Spokane.

No Fast Mail for Canada.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 29.—In Canada circles in England great disappointment is expressed at the failure of the British Postoffice authorities to make the necessary arrangements for a fast mail service between the Dominion and Great Britain. Canadians claim that their government has done everything possible to induce English capitalists of the English government to undertake to furnish between Canada and England a postal service equal to the best similar service between New York and England, but it is added, in spite of all the efforts made in this direction the Canadians and those directly interested in Canada failed to accomplish the object they had in view.

No Opposition.

By Cable and Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—Patrick McDermott, the McCarthyite candidate, was elected without opposition to the seat in the Commons left vacant by the death of John Pope Hennessy.

Libel Suit Decided.

By Associated Press.
ANACONDA (Mont.), Oct. 29.—The libel suit of A. J. Seligman, against the Standard for $100,000 damages, was decided in favor of the Standard.

Australian News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The steamship Alameda arrived this morning twenty-four days from Sydney, via Honolulu.

A prolonged debate took place in the New South Wales Assembly September 29th, over the management of the railways by a Board of County Commissioners. A section of the Assembly, headed by Mr. Schey, were opposed to the Commissioners, desiring to increase the power of Parliament in the matter, or rather to abolish the non-political system of the management of railways. Schey charged the Commissioners with being corrupt, but gave no particulars. Sir Henry Parkes, Premier, responded at length according to his support to the present railway policy. He pointed out that the resolution which Schey desired to pass, amounted to an order to the government to bring in a bill to amend the railway act in the direction of curtailing the powers of the Commissioners. He declared that the House might pass the resolution if it chose, but the government would not obey it. The Premier's speech virtually converted the motion into one of censure on the Ministry. The motion was finally negatived by 43 to 23.

The experiment in telephoning between Melbourne and Adelaide that was carried on by the Postmaster General of the Colonies of Victoria and South Australia, September 29th, proved a complete success.

News was received at Sydney October 8th, that the white residents of Tanna Island, in the New Hebrides group, were leaving the island until the tribe war now raging should cease. The whites say they do not think the end will come till one party exterminates the other. Sir J. B. Thurston, Commissioner for the Western Pacific, will visit the island to ascertain if the natives cannot be restrained.

On October 8th, a call of the New South Wales Assembly was made for October 28th, to finally consider the Electoral bill.

Exports from New Zealand for the year ending July 1st, last, aggregated in net to-night, by steam and sail, were two hundred and nine thousand tons, chiefly frozen meat, grain and produce.

Further particulars of the loss of the ship Fiji were received at Sydney before the Alameda sailed. Fifteen of the crew were landed by a life line which was sent to the wreck from Warrambool, via Port Campbell. Twelve of the crew were drowned. The ship broke up and the beach was strewn with wreckage; the scene of the wreck is three miles east of Gilebrand river. The Fiji struck against a low reef a short distance from shore. A sailor, Gebanhr, one of the survivors said he was from Liverpool, having sailed previously from Hamburg, on May 22. Captain Vickers, second mate Campbell, four apprentices, sailmaker Lyons and four sailors were saved. Chief officer Brustand, third mate Lardman, the cook, steward and an apprentice, Porter, are known to be drowned, but the names of the others were not ascertained.

The steamer Wallarah, of the Lands Anchor Line, was wrecked some time ago near Cape Town, while en route from London to the Colonies. No lives were lost. The ship and cargo was valued at $150,000.

Joe Choyinski, of San Francisco, the pugilist who fought Goddard two hard battles, returned on the Alameda.

Rumor of a Battle.

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 29.—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says there is a rumor of an engagement on the frontier of Guatemala and Salvador between the Salvadorian refugees and the Salvadorian troops, and the former were defeated. Nothing could be heard of the fight at the Salvadorian legation, where the rumor is not believed.

Railroad Earnings.

Ex-Senator Ingalls during his Boston lecture on "The Problems of Our Second Century" declared that "every man should be a politician, not in its narrow sense of a seeker after office; but every man, and every woman too, should take an active hand in politics. The people get just as good government as they deserve. There are more good than bad men, but I regret to say there is a disposition to sneer at the vulgarity of politics and try to keep aloof from it. A man should be a partisan. Next to a wide-bound Republican I like a red-hot Democrat. I always admit that there were some bad men in the Republican party; not many perhaps, but a few. I have also admitted that there might be a good man in the Democratic party; not many perhaps, but a few." While exceptions may be taken to the declaration that "the people get as good government as they deserve," still in a land where the people rule it is the duty of every good citizen to take an active interest in public affairs. It is only when they are indifferent that "bottleless" prevails. When they become aroused the boddies must go.

ACCORDING to the Examiner the members of the Grand Jury now in session in San Francisco, have been threatened with boycott if they do their duty in bringing indictments against the alleged boddies. As no other paper has said anything about such a thing, and as the members of the Grand Jury have only to tell of the threats and who made them, to make it extremely "sunny" for the threatener, the story will not meet with many believers. The Examiner would like the people to believe that all the boddies that are left in the State—having taken good care to get Buckley and his gang out of the way—are Republicans, and ought to be punished on general principles. The Examiner may yet be surprised when the final report of the Grand Jury is handed in.

The annexation fever in Canada is exciting much attention in England, and such open advocacy of political union with the United States as has lately been expressed in Quebec and Ontario may prompt a Tory Ministry to be as foolish as those politicians who, a century ago, tried to coerce the American Colonies.

So grave is the situation in the Province of Quebec that startling events may happen at any moment. The French claim that their constitutional privileges have been outraged, and they say that unless England offers a speedy remedy for this, they "will turn where their rights can be protected."

THE discoveries of the Japanese Commissioners sent to this coast to inquire into the immigration of Japanese women are startling enough to call on active measures on our own part. The Commissioner finds that there are now over 3,000 Japanese women of immoral character in this country, and that they are increasing rapidly in number. The Japanese Government proposes to do what it can to stop the traffic, but much more can be done at our own ports, as the women secrete themselves on outgoing steamers at Japanese ports.

FIRST it is M. M. Estee and then it is Stephen B. Elkins who is mentioned by the newspapers as the man intended by President Harrison for the soon-to-be vacant cabinet position. Estee's star seems to be partially set at the present writing and Stephen B. Elkins looms up as a winner. He has probably had the supreme pleasure of dining the Washington special correspondents last.

CHINA'S insolence towards the United States should be promptly answered with a charge of "grape and canister." Blaine will likely teach that Republic a severe lesson in diplomacy before he gets through with them.

DOUBLE DREAMING.

A Lady and Her Absent Friend See the Same Vision While Asleep.
A young married lady relates the following remarkable experience of telepathy in Blackwood's Magazine. Shortly after her marriage she had accompanied her husband to India. It was toward the end of the mutiny, and she was separated from him—he being about forty miles away and, as she believed, in great personal danger. For the first time in her young life she was left alone.

One night, on retiring to rest, feeling far from well, depressed, too, by the sense of loneliness and by anxiety on her husband's account, she "could not help crying," and fell, as she thought, into a troubled sleep, in which she dreamed or fancied that an elderly gentleman who had shown them a kind of house on their first arrival in India, but who was then residing at a considerable distance, entered her room and approached her bed. "Only dear child, I know well that you are suffering, and believe me, I feel deeply for you," and that he stooped down and kissed her. Though quite awake, she said, that it was merely a vision, she felt great consolation.

AN INVASION OF CANADA.

Uncle Sam's Troops Lost on British Territory.

It is a fact not generally known that a few years ago an armed force of Americans invaded the British possessions. It occurred in the early part of 1877, during the pursuit of Sitting Bull's band of renegades. A few troops of the Second cavalry were hot on the trail of the Indians, says Capt. C. C. Elliott, in St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and we hoped to catch them. We had been wandering about for several weeks, and did not know exactly where we were. Just about dusk one evening the major in command, who was riding at the head of the column, came upon one of the iron posts that marked the British boundary. I never heard a man swear harder in my life, for the trail was hot and he was hopeful of bringing the Indians to a fight. He called the officers around him and held a council of war. Both horses and men were worn out, and it was twenty miles to the nearest town on one side of the line. Under the circumstances he decided to take the risk and camp with his command on British soil. We went about three miles into British Columbia and spent the night there. Next morning, however, we were up early and slipped back to our own side of the frontier very quietly. Fortunately no one saw us, and the matter was not brought to the edge of the Canadian government. I have often wondered what would have happened if the Indians had attacked us on British soil, where we had no kind of right to be.

BRITISH SOLDIERS ON WHEELS.

Cyclists Who Can Fight Either Infantry or Cavalry.

Is the soldier cyclist a good killer? The men of the Twenty-sixth Cyclist corps can thrust their swords through a suspended lemon while riding at a rate of sixteen miles an hour. The safety bicycles are fitted to carry the rifle at the side, which can be taken out in three seconds, a pouch carrying one hundred rounds of ball cartridges, signaling bags, etc., the whole weight of which is something under seventy pounds, including machine.

Not the least interesting weapon carried by the cyclists, says the Strand Magazine, and used for the first time at the Easter maneuvers, is the Gatling gun. This particular gun used is capable of firing at the rate of six shots a second. It weighs ninety-seven pounds, the ammunition being carried in cases for the purpose. It is transported to and fro on a gun carriage composed of four safety machines coupled to one another and ridden by four men.

A GUINEA HEN'S PLUCK.

A year ago City Sheriff Croft, of Danbury, Conn., bought what he supposed to be a Guinea cock for breeding purposes. It turned out to be a hen, so he made a pet of it and turned it in with his large stock of Brahmas. A day or two ago, says the New York Sun, there was such a commotion in the chicken yard that Mr. Croft left the dinner table to investigate the disturbance. From his back stoop he saw a large rat fastened to one of his small Brahma hens. The chicken was fluttering about, and it seemed to be all up with it.

From the other end of the yard the Guinea hen and a rooster flew at the rat with such ferocity that it released its hold on the Brahma and went for the Guinea hen. Then began a battle between the little game hen and the rat. The rat sprang and bit, and the hen picked and scratched. Over on his back went the rat with the Guinea picking the fur from its body. Finally the rat got on its feet and made a dash for liberty, but the little hen was after it, and it was forced to turn and fight again. In a minute there were streaks of blood on the gray coat, and the rat, more dead than alive, at last made its escape in a hole under the coop. It was a fight, said Sheriff Croft, worth going miles to see.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people should take, as the mineral potash, which is in every other Sarsaparilla that we know of, is under certain conditions known to be enervating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point.

Mrs. Belden, an estimable and elderly lady of 610 Mason St., S. F. was for months declining so rapidly as to seriously alarm her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in that dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my lost flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years." That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S.

A Fever-Hidden Town.

The Virginia Chronicle says: Much sickness among children prevails on the Comstock at the present time, the principal disease being scarlet fever. There are probably thirty cases of the above disease, which is generally of a mild form. A case of diphtheria is reported on the Divide, though not of a malignant type. The doctors state that the present siege of fever is almost epidemic, and although not considered particularly dangerous, precautions should be taken to prevent its spread. Were we to attempt to enumerate the families at present afflicted it would almost be an endless task.

McCoy Heard From.

The following is quoted from a letter from A. B. McCoy (Baldy) after his arrival in San Francisco: "I was worse than rattled yesterday. It broke me all up to meet so many of the 'old guard.' Please explain this fact if I did not appear to good advantage. Ben, how I would like to spend a few days in Reno. I am going to take a run up there before long. Tell old Jim Burge."

JOTTINGS.

The table service at the Riverside Hotel is as fine as any on the coast. Richard Herz, the jeweler, is an artist. His show-window is very beautiful. The diamonds sparkle like due drops in the sun. Jake Becker, always up with the times, will set out a fine turkey lunch to-morrow, which he will throw in with a nice drink of cool beer and all for 15 cents.

Have Your Pennies.

One cent per day and doubled each consecutive day for 60 days will reach the enormous sum of four quadrillions, two hundred and twelve trillions, eight hundred and fifty-seven billions, four hundred and eighty-eight millions, one hundred and thirty-nine thousand, two hundred and sixty-eight dollars and forty-eight cents, viz.: $4,212,857,488,139,268.48.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effective in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

There is None Better.

Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and is a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

A Word to Ladies.

Ladies who desire a beautiful clear skin, free from pimples, boils, blotches and other eruptions, should commence at once to use Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They will also remove that heavy look about your eyes and make them bright, and will cure headache from whatever cause it arises. Remember you are only required to take one small pill at bed time, which is coated with pure sugar, and will not grip or produce any unpleasant sensation. Sold at 25 cents by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Shingles a cruel enemy.

The best cure in the world for cuts, bruises, corns, ulcers, salt sores, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by Wm. Plummer.

Certainities.

"The continual dropping of water wears away the stone." So continual headache wears away the brain forces. And it is equally as true that Cephaline wears away headache, and that quickly. All druggists are agents.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Sore Throat Syrup has been used for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, always all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world.

Baby cried.

NEVADA FARMING.

A Possible Solution of Why Farming Doesn't Pay Better in This State. "I noticed by the GAZETTE that a car load of chickens went through Reno the other day en route from Kansas to California," said a well-known Mason valley farmer to a GAZETTE reporter yesterday. "Yes," was the reply, "that is the twenty-ninth or thirtieth car load this season."

"You don't tell me? Why, can't we raise chickens enough in this State? I can raise 300,000 chickens on my ranch and not know it."

"Well, why don't you raise them and supply this trade," inquired the reporter.

"Well, I'll be d— if I know. Look here, let me tell you something. I was on the ranch the other day looking over my bills, and found my foreman had bought $100 worth of butter. I said to him, 'Jim, what's this? Why do you buy butter when you have 40 milk cows with their bags spotted?'" Jim said that he did not have time to milk and make butter; but, I asked, can't any of the men milk?

Jim said no. Then I said to Jim, suppose you take time and milk and make what butter you need or go without."

The GAZETTE man ventured to ask the gentleman how much he paid for ham and bacon a year.

"Well, sir, damfino. Let me tell you something. I asked Jim the other day how many hogs we had. Only one lame one he said. I traded them for barley, said Jim. I concluded I'd look that up and went to the house and took the blotter when I found this entry: 'Sold all the hogs but one lame one to Jim Johnson for barley to feed Jim and Nig while breaking colts.' Now, by jimminy, I'd like to know which end you would commence at to post that item. Why sir, it beats the devil. Several years ago I put up a set of Fairbank scales to weigh stock on. My neighbors came there, pull a gate off the hinges, stay all night, eat supper and breakfast, load their pocket with apples, or if they happen to have a wagon, load in a box or two and go away with never a thank you. But that's all right," said the good natured farmer, "but how about that Jim and Nig while breaking colts?"

"Nevada can produce more and finer hogs for less money than anywhere else in the Union, and I know it." But when the GAZETTE man suggested to him that he should think he would commence now to make at least what butter and bacon he required for his own use, he laughed and said he believed he would.

The above conversation is given to illustrate the method of farmers as carried on by nine-tenths of the farmers in this State. They pay out annually more than 75 per cent of their earnings for things that might better be produced at home, say nothing about supplying the home market. Is it surprising that the farmers of Nevada are not more prosperous?

MORE ROBBERIES.

M. M. Jamison and Richard Smith's House Visited by Midnight Robbers. Night before last robbers entered the houses of S. M. Jamison and Richard Smith and took many valuables, including wearing apparel. The robbery was not discovered until yesterday afternoon. Constable Upson was informed of the theft, and in looking around for the plunder he found a cooking stove that was stolen from F. M. Payne a short time ago and several pieces of furniture taken from the lodging house of Mrs. Jones on Third street. There has been no arrests as yet, but several will follow in a day or two.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Carson Appeal Makes a Malignant Statement. The Carson Appeal says: "The Associated Press service for this State is just twelve hours behind the San Francisco papers. The news goes through Reno to San Francisco and is then returned in a rebash form to such Nevada papers as take the dispatches."

Why the Appeal should make such a statement is hard to tell. The GAZETTE report is "dropped" off here as it goes through, consequently it gets here before it goes to San Francisco at all. The GAZETTE also receives the full Associated Press report, the same that the Bulletin, Post and Report get, word for word, and publishes it fully 18 hours before it is possible for any San Francisco papers to get here.

A VERDI GIRL'S WISH.

She Writes to a Firm in Oregon for Singing Birds. The Portland Oregonian contains the following: "Probably several young men, when they read the following letter, will wish they were singing birds, that they might be sent to the writer to be her delight, and to be cared for by her in her lonely home on the Truckee river."

"VERDI, Nev., Feb. 25, 1891. 'Oregon Improvement Company—Sirs: Some months ago I read in a newspaper of this country that you were sending to England for another shipment of singing birds. Would it be possible for me to obtain just one pair of mocking birds to cheer my lonely home away out on the lonely Truckee river. I am willing to pay a reasonable price for them, just for the delight they would give me. You could not have the heart to refuse me if you knew how much I do desire them. In fact I would be willing to take any kind of birds, so that they came with this lot. Anxiously awaiting your reply, I am yours, MOLLIE."

"The idea of the Oregon Improvement Company being applied to for singing birds is very funny; but the poor girl, away out in that God-forsaken Washoe county, in Nevada, is in dead earnest, and her longing for something to cheer her home must not be made the subject of ridicule. Come over to Oregon, Mollie, where the birds sing in every bush, and where you may yourself be able to cheer some one else in his lonely home, while you listen to their sweet songs. The Oregon Improvement Company has no singing birds, Mollie. The only luxury it has indulged in of late was a receiver. He was a bird, but don't sing, and has been turned loose. Birds cannot stay in Washoe, Mollie. If you had wings you would leave the place yourself. So come to Oregon, where the nightingales sing all the year long, and where you can sit out on the back porch and list to them sing."

Mollie is all right where she is. She don't want anything from the Webfoot country at all, but only wants an English singing bird. Any time she declares her intention she will be provided for at home.

ANOTHER GOOD SCHEME. A Project to Irrigate Land in Esmeralda. The Walker Lake Bulletin says:

On the 2d of November there will be a convention held in Hawthorne to discuss the proposition of a big irrigation scheme for Esmeralda county. At the present time quite a number of mountain streams run into Mono Lake. The water before reaching the lake is fresh but becomes impregnated with mineral deposits in the lake and is useless for even irrigation purposes. The proposition is to divert these streams before they reach the lake and turn the water into a ditch, running down to a valley known as Whiskey Flat where there is a site for water storage. The ditch would be about 4 feet deep and 6 feet wide, and take the water within 12 miles of Hawthorne, where it would be about 1,000 feet above the city.

Between Hawthorne and Whiskey Flat is about 50,000 acres of so fine land as ever can be found in this State. The soil is exceedingly rich and every acre can be irrigated from Whiskey Flat.

The expense of this project has been estimated by engineers at about $500,000. The work begins about three weeks earlier here than in Carson Valley, and it is warm until January.

All kinds of grapes and fruits can be raised here, including nuts and semi-tropical fruits.

It is proposed to float bonds to carry out this project, and there are also thousands of acres of fine timber lands that the ditch will pass through, thus developing a large section of country and promising a handsome return for capital.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup. As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

A Safe Investment. Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggists a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, croup, and etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon.

The Huntington Valley Land & Cattle Company sold Tuesday 150 head of beef cattle to L. Brooks of San Francisco. They were shipped to Wadsworth yesterday and from there they will be driven to Mason Valley to feed.

If you have calarrh you are in danger, as the disease is liable to become chronic and effect your general health, or to develop into consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh by purifying and enriching the blood, and building up the system. Give it a trial.

It is a well-known fact that theatrical women take far better photographs than those out of the profession, and the rather stupid question is often asked why this should be. "I am tired of explaining to ladies," said a photographer to a New York Sun reporter, recently, "that as long as they do not look like actresses out of a picture, they should not expect to do. Above all, you will find that the very woman who would disdain to have a theatrical appearance on the street is set on having it in a photograph. She wishes to look dashing, assertive and passionate, and is never satisfied when I make her her own sweet self. Now, I cannot pose ordinary women as I can an actress, for the reason that they haven't the ability to fall into the attitude I want. Then, again, they are usually unable to throw the particular expression into their faces that they wish to have there, and this an actress can do. Above all, a lady not of the profession seldom makes up her face when she is photographed, or, if she does, it is badly done. I always touch up a woman's face a bit with crayon if she will allow me, but she usually won't. The skillful actress makes up in a pronounced manner, her eyes heavily shadowed and her lips made blood-red. I can soften where I cannot accentuate in finishing a picture, and so, when these exaggerations of the actress are toned down, her eyes merely look large and brilliant, and her mouth clearly defined. It's the same with the men. An actor knows how to pose, to begin with, and, as a general thing, he makes up his face as he invariably does on the stage. There is really no use of men and women in private life hoping to get photographs that will be as striking and satisfactory as those of actors and actresses, unless they are willing to take a course of dramatic training and study the art of make-up."

EIGHT HUNDRED OLD MAIDS.
A Community Where the Men Have No Business to Be.

When in Ghent I struck a queer community, says a traveler. It is called the Hegera image, and is a community of women who form a sort of old maids' home. It was established in the seventh century, and has flourished ever since in a separate quarter of the city, having been originally surrounded by a wall.

The houses are almost all uniform in size, being two stories in height and built of brick, and the streets run through them in every way, radiating toward the square, in which is erected their large and beautiful church, where women are bidden to marry, but are compelled to observe a certain order of religious exercises as long as they remain in the community and to pay their allegiance to the superiors selected by them.

They must pay their way, of course, and to do so must either have money of their own before going or earn their living by doing such work as is given to them, which is mainly lace making and fine sewing. They have a regular habit, like other nuns, which is obligatory on them to wear, and they go and come pretty much by their fancy leads. There are no secret societies, no eight hundred in the community. Just fancy what a field there is in Pittsburgh for an institution of this kind.

INTERNATIONAL HENS.
A Yankee's Clever Scheme for Making a Henney Pay.

The advantages which people who live exactly on the line between two countries have in escaping the customs and other regulations of both countries have often been recounted. Probably the most picturesque and innocent instance of this kind of evasion comes from the far western town of Nogales, which is exactly on the boundary between Mexico and Arizona.

On the United States side of the line in this town eggs have been rendered dear by the new tariff upon eggs, inasmuch as the hens in that region are chiefly owned on the Mexican side of the line and fed by the peasants on cheap Mexican grain.

Recently, according to the Tombstone (A. T.) Prospector, a Maine Yankee arrived in Nogales with an eye to business. He was convinced that his opportunity lay in the high price of eggs.

Accordingly, he put up a long hen-house exactly across the boundary line. At the American end he provided nests; and at the other end he regularly fed his hens with low-priced Mexican grain.

The fowls in their grain in Mexico and then walked across the line into the United States to lay their eggs. The transaction was perfectly honest, for of course the proprietor of the henhouse smuggled neither grain nor eggs. But he availed himself of the high prices on one side and low prices on the other.

THE JAPANESE FLIRTATION.
How Lost Hearts Are Recovered in Japan.

"The Japanese are nothing if not provoking," said a traveler who had just returned from the Orient to the San Francisco Call. "American women are coming into vogue over there, even our methods of flirtation, becoming popular. The Japanese maiden is exceedingly coy, and it is difficult for a foreigner to gain an entrance to society, but flirtations are by no means uncommon."

"How? Well, if a young man sees a pretty Japanese girl on the street he may follow her at a respectful distance. If she is with an elderly woman, to whom he must impart the information that he has lost his heart and is miserable. The old woman will ask what has become of his heart, and he must point out the girl at the same time, slipping a quarter into the former's hand. She will disappear and in a few moments return with information that the girl will be at a certain fashionable tea house on the following day he may recover his heart. The pretty maiden will appear with a chaperon, and the young man is at liberty to address her. She will probably meet him often in this way, but always with a protective, watchful vigilance is never relaxed. If the aspiring youth is disheartened, he may eventually call, and so gradually work his way into society."

Strange Story of an Old Man's Nocturnal Ramblings.

A Sylvania (Pa.) man, who was not aware of the fact that he was addicted to walking in his sleep, began to miss his clothes on awakening in the morning. Four suits disappeared mysteriously, when he was constrained to offer a reward of twenty-five dollars for the detection of the thief.

One night, says the Atlanta Constitution, the eldest son resolved to capture the thief and secure the reward. So he kept watch secretly in his father's room.

That night he was surprised to see his father arise, dress himself with closed eyes, and walk out of the door. A mile from the house was a mill-pond, where all the men and boys of the neighborhood were accustomed to go in bathing. And thither the old man wended his way, followed by his devoted son. The moon was shining brightly, and on reaching the pond the son saw him take off his clothes and stuff them into an old hollow cypress log as far as they would go. Then he plunged in, swam around several times and then came out.

His son thought, of course, that jumping into the water would awaken him, but when he went up to him he found that he was still asleep. Then it was funny to see him hunting for his clothes. He had forgotten entirely where he had put them, and so, after a fruitless search, he went back to the house, donned his robe de nuit, and went to bed.

The next morning the old man knew nothing about the occurrences the night previous, but, convinced by his son, he cheerfully paid the reward.

Exhaustion of Coal Mines.
It is estimated that the British coal mines will be exhausted in less than six hundred to eight hundred years. It is further calculated that, drawing upon only one of her fields, the Westphalia, Germany will not exhaust that before the end of the twenty-seventh century, but that by the beginning of the year 3000 the big coal fields of Bavaria and Aachen and the Silesian districts will be entirely used up.

"German Syrup"
We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

Ed. L. WILLIAMS, of ALMA, Neb., I give it to my children when troubled with Croup. They have depended upon it in attacks of Croup with my little daughter, and find it an invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria, and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs.

Castoria
For Infants and Children.
Castoria promotes Digestion, and overcomes Flatulency, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, and Feverishness. Thus the child is rendered healthy and its sleep natural. Castoria contains no Morphine or other narcotic property.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as a superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ASHNER, M. D., 111 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I use Castoria in my practice, and find it specially adapted to affections of children."
ALEX. ROBINSON, M. D., 157 1st Ave., New York.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pain of bowels and general system very much. I have had many of my patients cured by its use."

BEECH'S TEA
"Pure As Childhood"
If your grocer does not have it, he will get it for you. Price 60c per pound. The above trade-mark and price is plainly printed on each package. Perhaps the best way to get it is to go where you know they have it and are willing to sell it. For instance, it can be had without difficulty at Hagerman & Sears, Reno

ABOUT THE TEA WE DRINK.
But few people know that there is such a thing as sun-dried tea in existence, and fewer have seen it. But there is, and it is of all teas the sweetest, purest, and most fragrant. You can at once know it is that it is not offered for sale and that you know nothing of it. That is answered easily; but it is necessary to present first a few details. The public only knows two general classes, viz., the green and the black tea.

Green Tea.
Few people know that the bright bluish-green color of the ordinary tea exposed in the windows is not the natural color. Unpleasant as the fact may be, it is nevertheless artificial; Prussian blue, silica, gypsum, plumbago, and other unwholesome mineral colors being used for the purpose. The effect is twofold. It not only makes the tea a bright, shiny, attractive green, but also permits the use of "off-color" and worthless tea, which, once under the green cloak, are readily worked off as a good quality of tea. Theobromine coloring, which even admits of the use of foreign substances, and the English government, which looks closer into the genuineness of its supplies than ours, has in some of the alleged "best" teas found red lead, straw, fragments of matting, rice-husks, and yellow leaves. In fact, it is largely stained by an English analysis that hundreds of thousands of pounds of cheap, adulterated, and low leaves are annually imported as tea, which without these coloring processes would be impossible. They report tea as one of the most notoriously adulterated articles of commerce.

The temptation to make sweepings and had tea into a men's tea is a profitable one. The use of foreign substances, and the English government, which looks closer into the genuineness of its supplies than ours, has in some of the alleged "best" teas found red lead, straw, fragments of matting, rice-husks, and yellow leaves. In fact, it is largely stained by an English analysis that hundreds of thousands of pounds of cheap, adulterated, and low leaves are annually imported as tea, which without these coloring processes would be impossible. They report tea as one of the most notoriously adulterated articles of commerce.

Black Tea.
The basket and pan-fired Japan tea, as well as the China tea that may be included under the general heading of "Black Tea," get their color from the firing or toasting process, but mineral coloring matter is also frequently used to give a certain desired commercial appearance. The firing and the coloring, in the green tea, largely conceals the identity of the tea, and permits the use of the very cheapest tea, to argue nothing for the deteriorating effect of excessive firing, which must be resorted to when a very cheap product is used and an extreme color desired.

Beech's Tea (Sun-dried).
Concerning sun-dried tea the people of the Pacific Coast have heard but little and know less, although it is extensively used where it is known and understood. We are told that when tea is so poor it cannot be sold at home or safely shipped to the English markets. It is shipped to America; that we will drink anything. That may possibly be one of the reasons we have not been offered sun-dried tea. They were good enough to send elsewhere. The sun-dried tea being sun-dried, in coloring matter is used, hence nothing but pure tea leaves can be easily colored. It is stated by adulteration or the introduction of foreign leaves or material, which is a glaring thing. That it is therefore, purer and far more fragrant than the artificially colored green tea and the manipulated basket or pan-fired tea, you hardly need be told. That it is more healthful than the mineral-colored tea, is also apparent. That it is more expensive, is also true; and that is another reason you have never seen it. There is not so much profit in it as there is in the cheap adulterated and colored tea.

About the Cost of Teas.
According to the custom-house reports, the amount of tea received at San Francisco last year (1900) was 5,840,137 pounds, and the value $106,290, or a fraction over 18c per pound. The consumer, of which the reader was one, paid for that tea 10c, and the grow
